

INTO THE HEART OF THE INDIGENOUS SOUL A WOMEN'S CIRCLE

How can the condor and the eagle weave a life that is full of meaning and wonder? What is it like to live a life steeped in the indigenous?
How do we balance our life in the ancient ways and the modern world?

Drawing from the work of Angeles Arrien – cultural anthropologist and author of the “Four fold Way” and Malidoma Some – African Shaman, educator and author of “The Healing Wisdom of Africa” Rowena Pantaleon and Antonia Creazzo will provide a year long program that calls a circle of 12 committed women. We will explore the healing of the soul by coming home to our indigenous nature.

These gatherings will include: sacred space, honoring of the ancestors, drum journeys, ritual, story telling, soul centered listening and will explore our connection to the five elements (fire, water, earth, mineral and nature). We will practice deep listening, learn to open our hearts, discover and share each others “medicine” and honor our gifts and wisdom.

Gatherings are once a month for three hours including a vision quest .
